FRANCE LOOKS AHEAD.

BERLIN says France is arranging to lend one hundred million yen, Japanese money, to the new "republic" of Manchukuo, where a Chinese puppet government in the interest of Japan.

Japan would guarantee the loan. Germans believe that France considers it important to help Japan establish a strong position on the southern boundaries of Russian Siberia.

The French are wise in war matters, and able to look ahead.

THE convention of veterans attacks the war department and objects to sending free, through the postoffice speeches by Secretary Hurley criticizing the B. E. F.

President Hoover tells veterans and the public the bonus cannot be paid because the country and taxpayers can't possibly afford it.

This opinion should make it certain that the government will not consent to cancellation of European debts. If the United States cannot afford $2,500,000,000 for its own soldiers it can hardly afford $10,000,000,000 for the soldiers, taxes and war preparations of other nations.

OUR PATRIOTIC fellow Americans in the Philippines seem uncertain as to their future. Recently they have been telling us they would separate from the United States entirely, to be free and independent. Then it occurred to some that if they did that they would not be able to send sugar and other products here without paying duty, also that they would have nobody to build roads and public schools for them.

Now Guillermo Capadocio, from the island of Negros, says: "We want to run the American flag, the flag of the Philippines."

Simultaneously, he, with 500 associates waving red flags, carrying banners reading "Long Live the Soviet Republic," demand a cash dose, payable weekly. It is a complicated situation there.

THE population of China is officially certified by the Nationalist government as 474,787,386. You would be surprised ordinarily to learn that China's population has gained only 75,000,000 in 300 years.

United States population has increased more than a hundred millions in the last century.

But poor China fights against constant internal upheavals, foreign aggression, banditry, plagues, floods, and, in the past, more than now, against opium.

Young ladies that write for newspapers discuss the importance of a college degree in life's struggle. Unless, the world is changed, such a degree ought not to be absolutely necessary.

Hypatia had no college degrees, but she created a college of her own and made such a success of it that competitors found it necessary to kill her. Bertha, mother of Charlemagne; Nancy Hanks, mother of Lincoln; George Eliot, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Rosa Bonheur, the

MULLINS STOPS UNITED CIGARS IN BENEFIT TILT

Needy Also Win As Cash, Vegetables and Fruit Are Contributed

$68.75 IN MONEY
TAKEN IN AT GATE

Second Game of Championship Series Scheduled Monday

Squashes, apples, peaches, canned goods, vegetables and other foodstuffs, together with $68.75 in money, constituted the gate receipts which will be donated to Salem's American Red Cross chapter as proceeds of the opening Class A football championship game played Thursday night at Reilly athletic stadium.

Mullins Wins

More than 600 persons witnessed two games on the nocturnal football program, watching the Mullins Foremen's club pound out a 7-2 victory over the United Cigars and a team of Class A all-stars defeat Salem Old-Timers, 5-4. The games were played for the benefit of the Red Cross.

The price of admission was 10 and 15 cents but those persons who had an over supply of fruits, vegetables or canned goods and an under supply of money brought large contributions of the former for distribution among indigent families.

The second game of the championship series between the Mullins and Cigars will be played at 7:30 p. m. Monday, again under the stadium's floodlight system, while the third game, if necessary, is scheduled Wednesday night.

Red Cross chapter officials state that at this time city relief is being administered by a council committee headed by John Kerr, safety director, from funds obtained through the Pringle-Roberts act.

Reduce Indebtedness

The money from the benefit games goes solely toward reducing indebtedness of the needy chapter, incurred in the purchase of groceries, coal, clothing and other necessities prior to the present time.

In the meantime, however, the Red Cross and the city relief commission are working together in assisting deserving families.

The task, multiplied many times over former years, has taxed the capacity of both organizations, but no detail is being overlooked in an effort to bring relief wherever it is needed.

The chapter lacks especially the work of the city relief commission and, as well, the cooperation of merchants and manufacturers of the city.

Flour, distributed by the national Red Cross, is now being administered by the local chapter through a committee of which Austin I. Getz is chairman. The Salem organization takes care of the needs of the city, Washingtonville, Butler and Perry townships and also cooperates with the Salvation army in flour requirements.

In addition, the chapter also is administering nursing services with Miss Ann Thomas performing the duties of this office.

Italian Airmen Continue Search For Missing Ship

(By Associated Press)
ROME, Sept. 16.—The Italian air force and the government continued its wide search over land and sea today for the missing New York-Rome airplane "American Nurse" and its three occupants, two men and a woman.

Officials said, however, they feared the likelihood of finding the plane was small. Air officers said they were inclined to believe it fell into the sea.

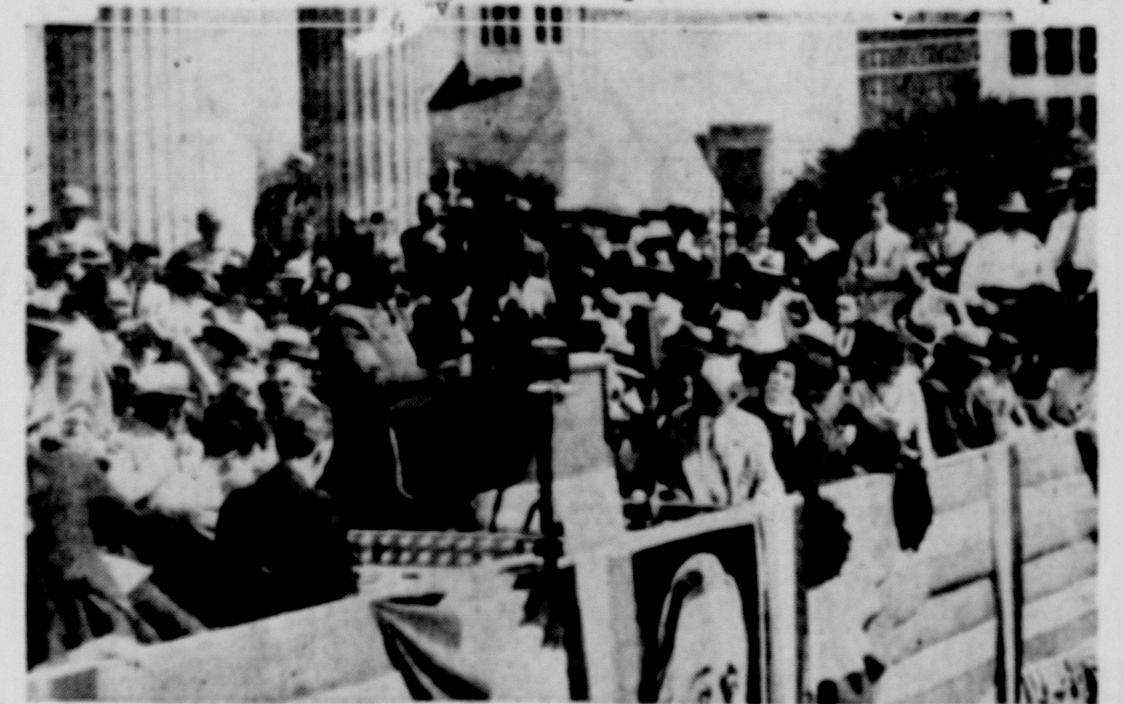

Last night the Nicholas lightship, sighted in the North sea about a mile off the British coast, reported that an airplane had come down on the water, landed a short distance and exploded.

A lifeboat and a tug from Yarmouth found no trace of the plane, the air ministry had no record of a missing ship but it was reasoned that the plane reported by the lightship could hardly have been the "American Nurse" for the incident occurred many hours after the American plane must have run out of fuel.

N. Y. EXCHANGE TO OPEN FILES

Probe Hinted As Result Of Unexpected Break In Market

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The New York stock exchange today ordered its members to furnish the exchange's committee on business conduct with "all telegraphic communications dealing in any way with topics of a political nature, sent or received by them between Sept. 12 and Sept. 15, 1932, inclusive."

Covers Election Date

This period covers the date of the Maine elections and the three days following. During this period there was a sharp break in prices of stocks.

The order specified that all messages sent during the period be turned over today to the business conduct committee by members having offices in New York. Out of town members were given until next Monday to furnish their files. The instruction was issued by Ashbel Green, secretary of the exchange, who stated that "a reply is desired from every recipient of this communication."

The order did not state the reasons for which the information is desired. Members of the exchange said, however, that the break in the market had doubtless prompted a special investigation.

Present Case Rarely

Frequently, the exchange "calls" on individual members, particularly those with wide networks of wire systems, to furnish files of their "telegraphic communications." This was done during the exchange's inquiry into short selling. The present case is one of few, however, in which the exchange has issued a blanket order of that kind.

The scope of the Sept. 12-15 break, as measured by price averages, was roughly 15 1-2 per cent.

Arrest Shoppers, But They Charge It

(By Associated Press)
EVANSTON, Ill., Sept. 16.—Evanston women, arrested for traffic violations, may simply say to the arresting officer: "Please charge it."

The new system of "charge accounts" was adopted yesterday as a result of protests of many women who said they were being inconvenienced by being arrested while on the way home from shopping trips when they had no money left to pay fines or for bonds.

When they appear later in court, however, the transactions will be strictly C. O. D.

The new rule applies to Evanston women only, and they must show upon arrest, that they live in Evanston.

Rev. Westphal To Preach In Canton

(By Associated Press)
CANTON, O., Sept. 16.—The Maryland Avenue Baptist church of Canton will have Rev. A. C. Westphal, of Salem, as preacher beginning Monday night. Rev. A. J. Twining is pastor of this church.

He will return a similar service in the Baptist church here during the month of October. The service will continue for five nights. Rev. Westphal will be in his own pulpit on next Sunday which will be Holy day.

Police End Reign Of Youngstown's "Bedroom Bandit"

(By Associated Press)
YOUNGSTOWN, Sept. 16.—A six-week reign of terror which brought out vigilantes in Youngstown and nearby villages seemed ended today as a man believed to be the "bedroom bandit" who terrorized many homes was seriously wounded as he tried to break into a house here.

The prisoner, William Hall, alias William Hawn, a Negro, is a 26-year-old ex-convict of Niles. He was released from the Ohio penitentiary shot and killed themselves within a few hours after the outrages began in this district.

A jagged piece of a wooden gun handle, left at the Ralph Eckman home near here, August 14, after Eckman had shot the "bedroom bandit" in the hand and broken a piece of his gun, is the link which police depended on today for their identification.

The broken piece fits perfectly, police announced, into the broken handle of an automatic pistol found by detectives at Hawn's home.

Ohio Prison Break Plot Is Thwarted

(By Associated Press)
PAINESVILLE, O., Sept. 16.—Extra guards, armed with machine guns, were posted at the Lake county jail today to prevent a contemplated prison break which might have freed 40 prisoners.

Sheriff James Moloney revealed he had increased the guard following detection of the plot through a prisoner who was not involved.

The sheriff said he found four men in the cell of Ed Alpers, 25, of Canton, and named Howard Hartman, 29, of Pittsburgh, as Alpers co-conspirators.

Both were held on had check charges.

Letters were smuggled out of the jail to a Canton man who was directed to recruit a crew of racketeers from that city and storm the jail some early morning hour when only one deputy would be on duty.

Sheen Remodels Filling Station At Cost Of $2,000

(By Associated Press)
Piano for the improvement of Sheen's Super-Service gasoline station, North Lincoln ave., at an estimated cost of $2,000, were announced today by Edgar C. Sheen, proprietor.

An extensive remodeling program, to be completed about October 15, is now under way. Sheen's residence is being moved back and the room housing automobile accessories is being extended back 12 feet, enlarging its capacity.

Sheen also expects to enlarge other buildings and remodel the installation of a battery service department. Buildings are being constructed to make a driveway to the garage available from both Fourth and Lincoln ave.

2 HUNTERS DIE, SEVEN WOUNDED

Two Canton Men Injured On Opening Day Of Squirrel Season

(By Associated Press)
Two dead and seven wounded was the first day's accident count of the Ohio squirrel season.

Charles Ingraham, 48, drayman of Painesville, and Sterling Perry, 22, of Mechanicsburg, accidentally shot and killed themselves within a few hours after the ban on shooting squirrels was lifted yesterday.

BB Gun Against Leg

Ingraham had been hunting alone, authorities were told. He met some friends and while talking to them commenced beating the stock of his shotgun against a log. The gun slipped and he was struck in the leg.

The seven injured were: James Thorpe, 26, of Girard; Albert Fowler, 25, of Canton; Eugene Anderson, 21, of Canton; Lloyd Shieffler, 18, of Ashland; Richard Duchonay, 49, of Lorain; Reuben Miller, 20, of Shansville; Warren G. Zecher, 35, of Dayton.

Thorpe was hit by slugs from a friend's gun. Physicians said he probably would lose the sight of one eye.

Thought He Saw Squirrel

Fowler and Anderson were struck by pellets from the gun of a third hunter who fired into the underbrush in the belief he was shooting at a squirrel. Neither was critically hurt.

Shieffler was wounded in the shoulder and chest when accidentally shot by his uncle, John Troup, of Elvira. Duchonay was similarly wounded.

Miller was shot in the head when his brother, Ben's gun accidentally discharged. Zecher was shot in the eye when a friend accidentally touched off his gun.

Bomb Moving Van, Two Men Injured

(By Associated Press)
CANTON, O., Sept. 16.—The bombing of an empty three-ton moving van, in which two men were injured, was being investigated by the police here today.

The truck owned by the Aero Mayflower Transit Co., of Indianapolis, was in charge of Charles Barr, of Columbus, and Robert Walt, of Indianapolis.

While the two men were asleep in the truck, a charge of dynamite partially wrecked it. Police are seeking three men who ran from the scene shortly after the blast.

NATIONAL GUARD CALLED IN HUNT

Husband Had Been Released On Murder Court By Investigators

(By Associated Press)

QUINCY, MASS., Sept. 16.—Charles DuBois, a Tuckahoe, N. Y., jeweler, committed suicide today to bring to a climax the investigation into the mysterious disappearance of his wife, Edith DuBois.

DuBois died at the Quincy hospital a short time after he had shot himself in the bath room of a rooming house where he had been living as "Ralph Anderson."

Unable To Get Statement

DuBois was unconscious when the time he entered the hospital, until he died. Two state police officials were in the hospital while the doctors were trying to revive the man but they were unable to get any statement from him.

The shooting occurred while national guardsmen were searching the woods surrounding the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. DuBois at Great Herring pond in Plymouth for Mrs. DuBois' body and state detectives and local police were searching the swampy edge of a pond in Foxboro.

Arrested In Plymouth

DuBois had been arrested in Plymouth in connection with the disappearance but was released when a district court judge refused to issue a murder complaint against him, as requested by police, on the ground that the authorities lacked sufficient evidence.

CLUB LEADERS TO ATTEND MEET

Salem Organizations Will Be Represented At Marietta Conference

Mrs. E. S. Vincent, president of the Book club, and Mrs. William Silver, president of the Travelers club, are planning to attend the annual conference of the Middle West district of Ohio Federation of Women's clubs on Oct. 4 and 5 at Marietta.

Mrs. Vincent is a delegate from the Book club and Mrs. Burt Leppert is a delegate from the Travelers club.

Mrs. R. E. Smucker, corresponding secretary of the state organization, expects to attend the conference, and other members of the Travelers club will attend.

Miss Elizabeth Hagaman, Barrens, president of the Ohio Federation, will attend the conference, and will be the main speaker at the opening session. Mrs. R. M. Gony, vice president of the state unit, with other club women prominent in both general and state federation work, will have part on the conference program.

A tour of places of historic and other places of interest in and around Marietta will be a feature.

LEGION VOTES BONUS, REPEAL

Louis A. Johnson of West Virginia Is New Commander

PORTLAND, ORE., Sept. 16.—Immediate payment of the bonus and prohibition repeal were overwhelmingly demanded by the American Legion in its 14th annual national convention.

The 1,200 delegates voted ten to one for full adjustment of the bonus, less than 34 hours after President Hoover had declared the two billion dollar bonus bill would promote economic recovery. Prohibition repeal was asked by a similar vote.

Honor West Virginian

Before adjourning yesterday, the convention elected Louis A. Johnson, Clarksburg, W. Va., attorney, to succeed Henry L. Stevens, Jr., of North Carolina, as national commander. Next year's convention will be in Chicago.

The war department was censured because envelopes franked by the department, containing statements printed on department stationery and written by Secretary Patrick J. Hurley on the bonus marchers, were placed on delegates' chairs.

Secretary Hurley, who was greeted on the opening day with mingled cheers and boos, from Huron, S. D., expressed surprise at the distribution. He had gone from Portland, to fill a speaking engagement. He said he had not authorized use of the frank. The envelopes were not postmarked.

When prohibition was reached, repeal was asked, 1,144 to 131.

Asks Preparedness

The Legion goes into its New Year pledged to support a larger army and navy, believing "America will never seek a war and a war will never seek at prepared America."

Violently opposed to recognition of Soviet Russia, opposed to the Griffin bill which would permit nationalization of ships without taking an oath of willingness to bear arms in defense of the United States.

A resolution which the Pennsylvania delegation had hoped to present to the convention, calling for censure of President Hoover because troops were used in existing the bonus marchers from Washington, was killed in committee this night before the convention closed, dying for want of a second.

Johnson, the new commander, will be assisted by vice commanders from the five districts—Charles A. Mills of Florida, John Maloney of Maine, W. H. Eastwood of Texas, Robert Flory of Nebraska, and Russell Meadows of Arizona. Rev. Irving Wood of Portland, Me., was chosen as national chaplain.

He Damages Jail, Draws Fine Of $25

Alleged to have ignited newspaper in a cell at city jail and caused other damage at the jail, Joseph Tulpe of Wheeling, W. Va., today was fined $25 and costs by Mayor John M. Davidson on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Locked in jail on charge of incitement, Tulpe is said to have started a fire in his cell, then knocked plaster off the walls and otherwise damaged equipment. Acting Police Chief William Neardon said.

Will Has Idea

BEVERLY HILLS, CALIF., Sept. 16.—Roosevelt got into the farm retail business the other day. They all do.

Now nobody can promise the farmer whether his wheat or potatoes will sell for a nickel, or a dollar. Supply and demand, and not a monetary speaker, determine that. The only relief you can give the farmer is through his taxes. Work it like income tax. If he makes it, he pays on it. If he doesn't make it, he doesn't pay.

A thousand shares of stocks or bonds make nothing, you pay nothing. But a thousand acres of land, you pay nothing to support half the community who have no land and pay no taxes.

But the farmer will spend the rest of the fall just running from one speaker's platform to another, listening to schemes to relieve him of nothing but his vote. Yours.

MAINE TREMBLES AGAIN

Louis Brann, Maine's new Democratic governor, has been getting attention all out of proportion to the importance of his job. From a publicity standpoint, it is his good fortune to be that Republican state's first Democratic governor-elect in almost two decades; Democrats, while naturally, are excited about their victory.

But Governor-elect Brann is of the type that won't be spoiled by worrying about public opinion, evidently. He stands on his own feet, square with the world and maker of his own destiny. His good wife, who must have broken down in a moment of weakness when representatives of the press were present, admits that she is going to have to learn to play bridge to acquit herself properly in her new position. But her husband never has learned to play and never will, she confesses.

Now there's a man who can be appreciated fully by other men—a man's man, if you please. There's no reason to believe that up in Maine there is any more charity in "What you don't play bridge!" than there is in Ohio. Mr. Brann must have been forced to set his jaw many an evening to keep himself from being pruned by across from some kind person willing to initiate him into the overflowing ranks of the entertainment conformists.

It's the little things that make the key to character. It will be a great disappointment if Louis Brann doesn't turn out to be one of the thoughtful executives that ever broke his heart on the flimsy periphery of his state's hard-hearted electorate. He has shaken all the addicts of the bridge table; he might know his own mind.

FREE ADVICE

Chicago's Mayor Cermak, lately returned from a trip to whomp up the world's fair in Europe, gave interested Lemmings some free advice. Give your policemen guns and this crime wave that's upsetting the city will disappear, he told them. It is scarcely necessary to add that his listeners, though polite, were skeptical. They are well satisfied with their unarmed police.

They admit the superiority that most Americans ascribe to their police and courts. In all probability, they had Mayor Cermak's manner the minute he opened his mouth. He was the breezy mayor of breezy city which is trying hard to live down a bad reputation. If there had been any doubt, the mayor would have dispelled it himself, with an assertion that crime is more rampant in London than it is at home.

To this latter claim, one newspaper, less polite than its competitors, replied that, if it was Mayor Cermak's pleasure, "we will just go on in our old-fashioned way of capturing criminals, getting them sentenced by incorruptible judges and sending them to prison where scandals are rarer than in American politics." A great many observant Americans hope that the old-fashioned way may include a virtual ban on firearms.

A British criminal could get free-arms if he wanted them. The manufacturer would be so that. But in most cases, he doesn't want to take the risk. If caught with a gun he can expect no leniency. Society plays fair with him—more than fair—by keeping the police unarmed. Consequently, use of a lethal weapon isn't considered smart. A low homicide rate is the result.

The gun is the basis of crimes of violence. It represents the killer's "courage." There is constantly the temptation to shoot it out with the armed police, to kill the victim.

armed or unarmed. So common is possession of firearms become that American courts are unable to discriminate effectively in favor of the unarmed criminal. A great many of Mayor Cermak's fellow citizens would appreciate it, if he were to see fit to explain his personal grounds for believing that London has anything to gain by popularizing gun carrying.

What Others Say

COOLIDGE'S COUNSEL TO VOTERS

Former President Calvin Coolidge, in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post, urges the re-election of President Hoover "for what he has done and what he has prevented." It is comparatively easy for the people to give a man credit for what he does, but they are not so likely to realize what he has prevented, although that may be much more important. The President has been constantly alert during the worst period of depression in the history of the country and of the world. He has shown patience and good judgment under most trying conditions.

The chief executive has been criticized unfairly and thoughtlessly by some who seem to believe the way to handle the unemployment problem is by extending doles to the individual. He has endeavored to apply the remedy where it would be most effective and to the advantage of the largest number. The reconstruction finance corporation has undertaken to relieve the unemployed by getting jobs for them. It has extended assistance to banks and insurance companies, to railroads and other institutions to keep business going along as near to usual as possible.

The former president very pertinently urges that we should take into account not only what has happened, but what might now be the situation had it not been for the leadership and executive ability of President Hoover. Conditions are far from satisfactory in this country, as they are elsewhere. But we have weathered the storm in better shape than most countries and the clouds are passing. The mental administrator is invaluable assets to the nation in the present emergency. The government has a vast program under way with which he is familiar and best qualified to carry to successful conclusion.—Indianapolis Star.

THE NEW SPRING-HOLZWARTH

NEW YORK Day by Day

O.O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Thoughts while strolling I mix up Willard Keefe and Walter O'Keefe. Those two are not the same. Willard Keefe is a New York City police officer. Walter O'Keefe is a New York City police officer. They are not the same. They are not the same. They are not the same.

How the big banks, ha, ha, are now stressing. "No securities for sale." That queer eddy of wind on 5th street. If a taxidermist can use through a depression the rest of us should. Jerome Beatty, a Lawrence, Kan., boy, who made good in the city. One of the town's grand old men—Adolph Lewisohn. Jules Bache somehow suggests Ponce's picture of John Bull without side-burns. Those furries of hope when the phone rings in a ticket agency. What has become of the talented Boardman Robinson? No one can look so world-weary as Earl Carroll. Or so electrically alert.

New York is becoming as full of bicycles as Rotterdam. William Stieg—a new Peter Arno. Somebody ask me for a receipt for paraphrasing. Don Marquis expressed it perfectly years ago: "Make people think they think and they'll love you. Really make them think and they'll hate you."

Wonder if others like to ride or bus tips just to eavesdrop on young couples in front? There's a firm name for you—Striving and Twyne. Del Mr. Stwing lips. Roky talks always as though he were hoarse. Who remembers when they called an itinerant sales man a chapman? Blossom Seeley doesn't look right without a neck fur. Manhattan is a best in 10 o'clock sunshine. And there's no place to watch it like a seat in an Astor window, watching the furious medley of Times Square cascading by. Or gazing over a parapet of the Empire.

Heigho ho and all that: Members of the fashionable jockey clubs are classed as employees and paid no federal tax on admissions this summer. And my sympathy is sincere for that sedate little Madison avenue book shop, whose two windows are always filled with bright-jacketed books, which had to display a window card: "This is not a drug store."

Sam Hellman spends most of his time in these days, running over for a week now and then to lunch with magazine editors. On his most recent trip, he motored in to Paris from his viallet and having a few hours to spare made a round of the bistros. At about the tenth it came upon him to sing, so he lifted his voice in an aria familiar to the St. Louis levees. He found an audience in another merry-maker and arm in arm they sang from place to place until it was time for Hellman to entrain at the Gare St. Germain. Shaking hands with his compatriot he remembered he did not know his name and asked it. "Titta Tuffa" was the reply, and it was none other than he.

Tin Pan Alley's new song writing duo, Gordon and Revell, have been compared already to Gilbert and Sullivan. But not many know that Revell, who is English, made his first hit in London writing an American tune. It was titled: "Way Down South in Nebraska."

Some strays: Buster West is not only a crack golfer but a champion three-cushion billiardist. Gene Fowler and Ben Hecht are finishing a play at Fire Island. Al Traubel, the comedian, was once a stenographer in New Bedford, Mass., and although left-handed shoots 79 to 83 at golf. The Friars have the oldest club bar in town, Felix 72, who has been there since the club opened. Walter O'Keefe, when a student at Notre Dame, boarded with Knute Rockne. J. J. Shubert is decidedly afraid of cats.

No one ever believes my cat story. But it's true. Into the billiard room of the Gerdes, in Cincinnati, one night there crept a black, straggled and meowing cat with a slit ear in a fan-like gnawed stub and four white-tipped paws. A loaf er, reversing the custom, trained it to jump in your lap at the cry of "Scat." Six months later on the steps of a West 87th street boarding house in New York, I told the story to fellow boarders. When I repeated the cry of "Scat" a feline jumped out of the shadows into my lap. It was the Cincinnati cat or its spittin' image. And I spent the rest of the night thumbing back my eyes.

The Stars Say:

For Saturday, September 17
The planetary configurations of this day suggest the prospect of the strange, unusual or eccentric, handling of sudden change, peculiar developments and intriguing or perplexing situations, both business and private. It is a time for wise deliberation, as rash or hasty decisions may have a far-reaching effect on the life. These decisions should be made when free from emotional stress or disturbance, or when not in a haggard mood.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year in which their future lives may depend upon the decisions and actions of the moment. Calm judgments, wise counsel, and cool self-government and restraint may save the situation and overcome obstacles. A child born on this day may be disposed to be reckless and stubborn, flying into headlong and headstrong decisions and actions. It should be trained and disciplined in infancy.

Maine Election, Roosevelt's Trip, Bonus Stir Campaigns

New Urge of Activity Presages Whirlwind Finish As Rivals Redouble Efforts

By BYRON PRICE
(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—A new urge of activity, presaging a whirlwind finish after weeks of half-motion, has been put into the presidential campaign by the Maine election, the Roosevelt western swing, and renewed discussion of the bonus.

So far as the political generals themselves are concerned, it appears certain that the efforts to be exerted on public opinion from now on will be on a scale as great as the country has seen in any recent campaign.

Redouble Efforts
For the expected redoubling of party endeavor on both sides the Maine election returns are largely responsible. Rejoicing Democrats, thinking that in their Maine victory they sense a distinct advantage everywhere, are encouraged to press every opportunity to the utmost. Surprised Republicans have been called upon by President Hoover himself to rally for a "hard fight."

No one can guess at this stage whether sparks from the roaring furnaces of organized party activity will start any conflagrations among the voters themselves. Word has come to party leaders from many sections that a large body of the people are silent and apathetic. In general, neither campaign contributions nor attendance at political meetings show an average high enough to indicate intense popular interest. Yet in Maine the vote was very heavy, which may mean that the public is thinking and meaning to act, even if it is not talking.

Roosevelt Speeds West
For the moment, most of the outward activity is on the part of the Democrats. Gov. Roosevelt, speeding toward the west coast, is asking for the support of the voters of both parties, as he turns from the old subjects of the general depression and prohibition to speak about farm relief, power and the railroads.

The preparations of the Republicans for an intense October drive in both east and west will bring into action every available party wheelhorse. President Hoover's own speaking program, calling heretofore for three major speeches, may be somewhat—but not greatly—expanded.

Whatever the political effect, publication of the bonus eviction report on the eve of the American League convention at Portland, stirred up a commotion which did not lack for public attention even in a week of commotions.

lied to aid in the development of tones and teeth.

The Well-Balanced Diet
"Pellagra," a disease which baffled the medical profession for many years, is now traced to a lack of vitamin G, known as the "anti-pellagra vitamin." It is found in milk, spinach, bananas, leafy vegetables and yeast. Vitamin G and vitamin B combined are thought to stimulate appetite and growth. Other vitamins are being studied by research workers.

It is not necessary to worry about any of the vitamins. If you include in your diet liberal amounts of the foods I have mentioned, which are known to contain vitamins, you will help yourself to vigorous health.

I cannot say too much about the importance of a well-balanced diet which contains varied and whole some food and supplies the body with all the various food elements needed to maintain health.

RESEARCH REVEALS "ALL-BRAN RICH IN HEALTH-ELEMENTS"

Helps Correct Constipation with "Bulk" and Vitamin B; Also Has Iron

Recent scientific research shows that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains two things needed to overcome temporary and recurring constipation. It has "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract.

These two important food-elements promote regular habits, and help do away with the headaches, loss of appetite and energy, so often the result of constipation.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is mild in action—much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes. Special cooking processes make ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more palatable.

Isn't this pleasant "cereal way" far more healthful than using pills and drugs—so often habit-forming? Just eat two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's daily—enough for most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Resides, ALL-BRAN brings your body twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

Equally tasty as a cereal with milk or cream, or used in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

N. Y. GOVERNOR PLANS CHANGES

Roosevelt Would Revise Executive Branch of Government

ROOSEVELT SPECIAL, Sept. 16.—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic presidential candidate, continued his trip through the west today after having told 110 leading Colorado Democrats in Denver last night. "When we take over the control of the legislative and executive branches of the national government next March we shall have the opportunity to revise the executive branch of the government along lines sounder, less extravagant and designed for the greater good of the greater number."

"For Average Citizen"
The New York governor, in an extemporaneous speech, said the government of New York state during 12 of the last 14 years had been in the hands of 1½ Democrats "because under the leadership of Alfred E. Smith in the first instance his government was for the welfare of the average citizen."

"The Democratic party," said Roosevelt, "has had in the past to appeal to voters with caliber and not dollars. That's true this time. We are about to enter a new period of liberalism in the United States. People have been going back in these last three years into fundamentals and are giving serious thought to the form of our government."

"If we get the young Liberals in this campaign we are going to keep them for a generation."

The seeds have been sown. Go through and reap the crop—and believe me, the price will be greater than that which is now being received for farm products."

Confident of Result
He added that "when I go into the White House, I plan to follow the same policy that I have followed as governor of New York and make frequent visits to the country instead of waiting for the country to come to Washington."

Gov. Roosevelt's first long stop today was set for Cheyenne, Wyo., where he was to arrive at 9 a. m. and remain until 11 a. m., mounting standard time. He was scheduled to arrive in Salt Lake City at 11:45 p. m.

"Where's the Fire?"

Even the toughest gangster couldn't resist arrest by this "cop," recently designated by Chief of Police T. O. Sturdivant as the youngest police officer in Atlanta, Ga. He is Bernard Blackwell and as this photo was made Officer Blackwell was making out a ticket for an infraction of traffic rules.

3 Miners Wounded In Illinois Field

(By Associated Press)
BRADWOOD, Ill., Sept. 16.—The invasion by union pickets of the Northern Illinois mine fields in protest against the new five dollar day basic scale, became a rout today after three miners had been wounded.

Shortly after dawn Chief Walter L. Moody of the state police confronted the encampment of striking pickets from the Peoria and Springfield districts and announced that they were going home under escort.

A few minutes later the procession that had sought to stop digging in Bradwood, Coal City and Wilmington strip mines yesterday was homeward bound. There were 78 cars in the parade, led by Chief Moody and with police cars sprinkled through the line there was no resistance, and none of the pickets was armed.

Reinforced by 100 deputy sheriffs of Will and Grundy counties, the officers, determined to disperse the pickets and prevent a recurrence of the violence of yesterday in which one worker, trying to run a gauntlet of pickets, was cut when his windshield was smashed and two pickets were shot. Neither was seriously wounded.

Germany To Build Third Pocket Ship

(By Associated Press)

BERLIN, Sept. 16.—The admiralty today ordered the keel to be laid October 1 for Germany's third "pocket battleship," to be known for the present as "Armored Ship C."

The order followed closely the dispatch of a letter yesterday to Arthur Henderson, president of the world disarmament conference at Geneva, which was unofficially reported to contain notice that Germany would sit in the disarmament deliberations no longer unless her claims for arms equality were recognized.

The new battleship was budgeted during the regime of former Chancellor Heinrich Brüning as part of the government's program "for replacing obsolete ships."

The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, said today, referring to the order to begin construction of the new ship, that "since Geneva produced no practical results, the government ordered the work to begin."

Post Office Costs Show Reductions

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 16.—John W. Philip, fourth assistant postmaster general, told the National Association of Postmasters in convention here today that "material reductions" in the cost of post office quarters have been accomplished in the last two years.

"The whole price structure has declined," Philip said, "and it was obviously our duty to readjust our expenses in accordance with the new conditions."

He said $681,900 was saved out of the 1931 appropriation for quarters, $745,000 out of 1932 funds and provided a $600,000 saving in 1933, for an aggregate reduction in the three fiscal years of $2,026,900.

In the motor vehicle service, Philip said costs have been cut from 15 cents per mile of truck travel in 1929 to 11 cents in 1932, and that the department also reduced the costs of stationery and twine by nearly $300,000 since 1930.

ORTIZ RUBIO, recently president of Mexico, has a plan to diminish our over-supply of workers. Through a representative of Universal Service, who visited him in Mexico City, Mr. Ortiz Rubio invited the United States to send to Mexico all Mexican workers now in the United States, and any others here of Latin origin. He says Mexico will supply all such workers with government land sufficient to enable them to earn a living for themselves, and thinks this would relieve the strain on our employment facilities.

This country could offer plenty of land to all those Mexicans and Latins and millions more, land now not occupied. But for some reason, people in the United States are unable to support themselves on a piece of land, as in Mexico and a hundred other countries.

S. H. S. NEWS

About the most interesting news for the busy housewife today is the business of canning. Thrifty folk are filling their fruit canisters with all kinds of fruit and vegetables in preparation for the winter which is sure to come.

Did you ever stop to figure your cost per quart? If you have been doing this your fruit cellar is already well filled. If you have not, try it and you will want to begin at once.

"Canning supplies" are proportionately cheap with prices of cashables. We carry a complete supply.

"Jar rings" at six dozen for 25c. figures about 1-3 of a cent per jar. It does not pay to take a chance with old rubbers.

We just received a shipment of "Super Rubbers" which are the latest approved covers with madders at 30c. These were formerly put out at $1.00 and $1.25 values only.

Large "preserving kettles" are a necessary utensil at this season for tomatoes, fruit juices and butters. An "18-qt. aluminum kettle" can be purchased at $1.00 and a cover to fit is 30c. Last week we told you about the large "enamel kettles" selling from 75c up.

"Bottles" for ketchup and fruit juices are retailing for the per dozen without caps, with patented stoppers at $1.00 per dozen.

"Stainless steel paring knives" with a good cutting edge are priced at the up.

A new shipment of "Conserve" is here. A 14-qt. size sells for $8.50. Please your orders for any household necessity and also let us help you with your gift problems.

Gloria's Hubby in Film Debut

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeanette Young Norton

Tasty Creole Dishes
Epicures who have traced each famous dish to its native habitat agree in awarding the palm for roasting to New Orleans. I have talked with men of international fame, who have grown positively lyrical when discussing lovely old New Orleans and its cookery. The majority of visitors ask for recipes, but many are ashamed when they discover that these recipes call for much labor and care, as well as a lot of ingredients. But those of us who have refused to be appalled by a formidable list of ingredients and much labor, have tried these recipes and have been successful in recapturing the charm and flavor of Creole cookery. And so if you have the time and the wish to use some little effort and care, here are two favorites with New Orleans housewives and with visitors to the Crescent City.

A Delicious Spanish Dish
First is Ropa Vieja, a Spanish dish much cooked in Louisiana. Hal two pounds of shin of beef. The liquor will do for soup stock. When the shin is cold, cut off the head part of the meat in thin slices. Season with salt and red pepper. Put the gristle and remaining meat into a separate dish. Slice and slightly fry two onions in a tablespoon of butter. Stir in two tablespoons of flour. When brown, add one quart of tomatoes. To this add the remaining meat and gristle which you have cut as finely as possible. Cook slowly for one hour. Add the sliced meat and a dash of English mustard. Cook for a quarter of an hour longer. Just before dishing add a teaspoon of minced parsley, a little garlic and one minced sweet pepper. Dish half for immediate use; put the rest in a mold to jelly.

Ohio Republicans Meet In Jefferson

(By Associated Press)

JEFFERSON, O., Sept. 16.—Ohio Republicans will gather here tomorrow to give their 1932 campaign a rousing start.

Rallying in this village, rich in the party's history, they will participate in a 18-hour program of speeches, fireworks and dedication.

David S. Ingalls, candidate for governor; Gilbert Beitman, candidate for United States senator; John W. Bricker, candidate for attorney general; and Congressman John O. Cooper of Youngstown will be among the state speakers.

Two national speakers, Homer Conklin, chairman of Chicago, who delivered a second in the nomination of President Hoover at the Chicago program; and former Governor Edwin P. Morrow, of Kentucky, also are on the program.

MARKETS

RALLY IS LED BY RAILROADS

Car Loading Report Tomorrow Expected to Make Good Showing

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The stock market shook off early nervousness today and turned upward, led by the railroad stocks which moved up 1 to 2 points.

An early selling test failed to penetrate the lower levels of the recent trading range, and encouraged those who have been bullish on the autumn prospect to make new purchases. Trading, however, was usually quiet, although it quickened somewhat on the advance.

Ralls Move Forward

After early losses of a point or more, rails moved forward early in the afternoon, bringing gains of 1 to 2 points to Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, New York Central, Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio. American Telephone was lagging, selling a point or so below yesterday's close, but gains of 1 to 2 were recorded at times by U. S. Steel, Allied Chemical, Dupont, Case, Harvester, American Tobacco B. Westinghouse and Corn Products.

While current traffic reports of railroads show a decline in freight car loadings for last week compared with the preceding week, due to the Labor day holiday, there was growing belief that the weekend statement due tomorrow would make a relatively good showing. 15 days of September handled 42,495 cars against 33,831 for the like 1931 Chicago & Northwestern in the first period and St. Paul's figures for the same period were 44,218 against 57,440.

Rail Report Persists

Despite a denial that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation had passed on applications from railroads for loans with which to buy large amounts of steel rails, the report persisted in Wall Street that some roads would shortly place orders for that purpose. The Steel industry furnished scattered evidence that recent gains in production rate were being maintained, although there has been some slackening in the past two days in the Youngstown district.

Renew Probe of Wellsville Bank

(By Associated Press) CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 16.—The federal grand jury today renewed its investigation into affairs of the Peoples National bank of Wellsville in connection with which two men have been arrested.

Assistant United States Attorney McDermott said the jury was making a "final and complete" check of the case.

Thomas A. Sheets, former cashier, has pleaded not guilty to charges of making a false report to the comptroller of misapplication of funds and of making two false entries. Ralph Merriman, former assistant cashier, has been arrested on a charge of misapplication of $9,000, but not indicted.

The grand jury is expected to report by noon tomorrow.

7-Room Frame Home Is Reported Lost

(By Associated Press) KANSAS CITY, Sept. 16.—To the list of lost articles reported to police was added today a 2-story, 7-room frame house.

H. B. Cohn, president of a real estate company, had not visited the house recently. As agent for the property, owned by G. W. Potts, owner, Mo., he went to inspect it. He found nothing but a large excavation.

Neighbors informed him the house and foundation were torn Sept. 1 and hauled away. Cohn said the house was valued at $3,500.

Spider Is Winner In Nature Drama: Snake Liberated

(By Associated Press) ST. CHARLES, ILL., Sept. 16.—The little black spider that struggled for 25 days to win its fight with a ten-inch garter snake today was declared the winner of the contest, but its prey was gone—liberated by Mayor I. O. Langum.

With a pair of scissors, the mayor last night severed the strands of the spider's web, while some 200 spectators watched the furious drama of nature come to a close. It was a lucky thing for the snake, which was weak from loss of food, for milk was provided by the city's chief executive before the reptile was allowed to wiggle its way to freedom.

There were cries of "fool" on the part of partisans of the spider, and the mayor admitted his action was unfair to the snake's opponent, but added he did not wish St. Charles to become involved in a legal controversy as a result of the fight.

Previously he had been warned by W. M. Stone of the Chicago Humane-Education society that permitting continuation of the struggle was in violation of the law which prohibits "keeping a creature in a cruel manner."

The mayor said he didn't know whether the law was being violated or not, but that he preferred to save argument by ending the contest.

Farm War Flares, Citizens Ask Aid

(By Associated Press) SIOUX CITY, Ia., Sept. 16.—Violence has flared anew on "the Sioux City sector of the farm-war," bringing pleas from citizens for military intervention.

Bricks and clubs flew through the air in the latest uprising of farmers striking for higher produce prices when 500 farm pickets last night ambushed and routed a group of special deputies on a highway near Correctionville.

The ambushed officers answered a telephone call reputedly coming from truckers asking assistance in running the picket lines. Upon finding no trucks, they started to return to Sioux City but were met by the pickets who threw rocks and clubs at their trucks.

Several officers received minor injuries but returned safely to the city where a force of 76 deputies was ordered to remain on duty to await developments. Sioux City police were also deputized for use in an emergency.

Urge Delay In Planting of Wheat

T. H. Park, extension entomologist, Ohio State university, Columbus, has set Sept. 25 as a safe wheat seeding date for this section, to prevent spread of the Hessian fly, farm officials announce.

Surveys made last spring in several northeastern Ohio counties showed that more than half of the stalks of wheat were infested with the fly, according to the officials.

The results of 12 years of experiments at the Ohio experiment station at Wooster show that early seeding has not given as large yields as seeding the latter part of September.

Wheat growers are asked by extension service officials to delay seeding until the fly-free date in order to protect themselves and their neighbors against the damage of this insect.

HARRISBURG, Pa. — Pennsylvania had more cases of tuberculosis, but few deaths from the disease, for the first half of 1932, compared with the 1931 period, the State Department of Health reported. Comparative figures for deaths only were given and showed 2,806 in 1932 and 2,988 in the same period in 1931.

Gandhi's Plan to Starve Self Not New As Political Weapon

Mahatma's Hunger Campaign to Protest British Electoral Plan Has Many Parallels in History. Irish Mayor MacSwiney World-Famous Case.

Courting death by starvation as a political weapon of the oppressed is not by any means new in history. Mahatma Gandhi, India's spiritual leader, in his determination to starve himself to death as a protest against the new British electoral plan for India, has seized upon a means of passive protest which dates back at least as far as the Spanish Inquisition. Many of the oppressed in medieval Spain undertook voluntary starvation in protest against the tyranny that prevailed in those bygone days. More recently, the self-martyrdom of Lord Mayor Terrence MacSwiney of Cork attracted the attention and sympathy of the entire world to the Irish cause. MacSwiney, sentenced to a two-year prison sentence for sedition against the British crown, went on hunger strike and steadfastly refused to touch food until his death after 74 days of suffering in Brixton Prison, London. Gandhi plans to start his self-starvation program if Premier Ramsay MacDonald does not rescind the electoral plan to which the Mahatma takes exception. However, MacDonald asserts that Gandhi would deprive the 60,000,000 "untouchables" he is supposed to champion of representation in the Indian Legislature and is determined to go ahead, regardless of the Mahatma's threats.

ST. LOUIS—Airplane passenger traffic at Lambert-St. Louis Municipal Airport here increased six per cent during the past 12 months, the annual report revealed. More than 325,000 pounds of air mail was either received or sent from the airport. Passengers arriving in St. Louis totaled 11,719, while those departing numbered 12,324.

Ohio Coal Miners Meet To Consider Settlement Terms
(By Associated Press)
MURRAY CITY, O., Sept. 16.—This Hocking county village was a mecca today for thousands of bituminous coal miners, called together to consider terms for settlement of a strike which has kept the diggings in this region idle for seven months.

The meeting was called by officials of the United Mine Workers of America after they agreed with the operators to accept a ten-point program submitted by Gov. George White to end the dispute.

Months of negotiation preceded the agreement and so confident were the operators that the miners would ratify it that plans for reopening many pits next week went forward even before today's meeting got under way. Normally the mines—in the Hocking, Pomeroy and Crooksville districts—provide work for some 7,000 men.

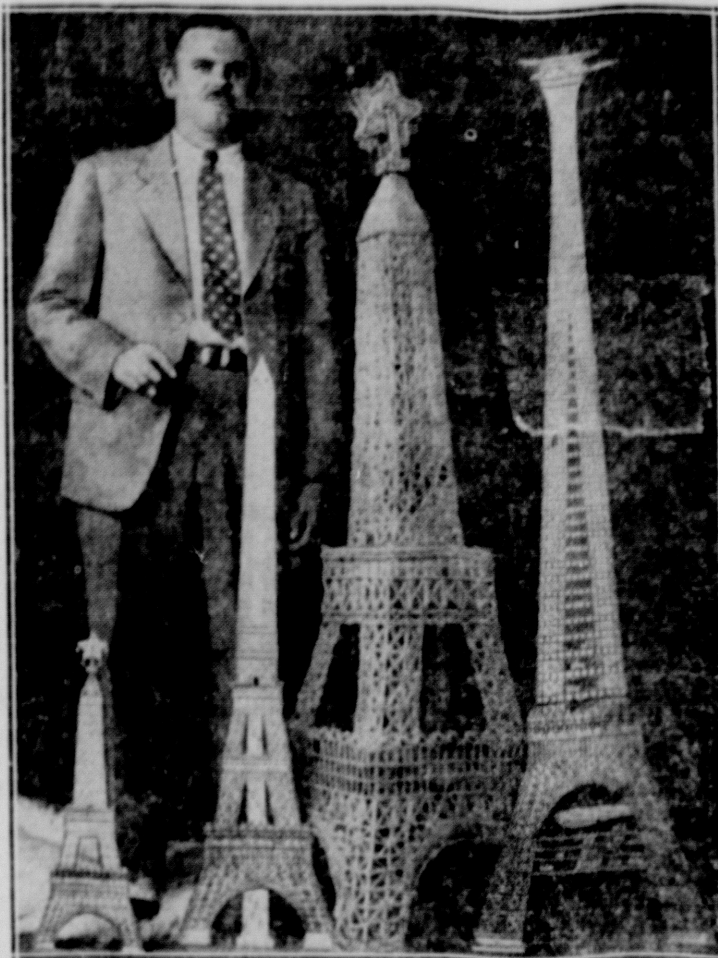

While the miners and operators prepared for work, national guardsmen on duty in the fields issued themselves breaking camp preliminary to departing for their homes. Gov. White sent the troops to the strike area to maintain order. Two men lost their lives by violence. Even after the troops arrived, many houses, bridges and other property were dynamited or destroyed by mysterious fires.

Proposed Greece Flight Is Delayed
(By Associated Press)
LIBERTY, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Otto Hillig, the "flying photographer" of this town, has encountered official headwinds in his projected second Atlantic flight.

Hillig said last night he had received a telegram from his pilot, Roger Q. Williams, who was in Washington, saying: "Washington does not approve of our flight."

Williams added he would fly to Liberty and acquaint Hillig with federal objections to a flight to Athens, Greece, which was to have started soon. Hillig last year flew to Denmark in the plane "Liberty," with Holger Hoiris as his pilot.

Getting Nearer to Heaven

A super-steel tower, over a mile high, more than five times the height of the Empire State Building, six times as tall as the famous Eiffel Tower in Paris and almost twelve times the stature of the Washington Monument, is the ambitious dream of Franklin Hugh Ellison, New York engineer. Here is Ellison with a group of models ranging from 1,500 to 6,500 feet which he has submitted to be erected at the Chicago World's Fair in 1933. The largest of the towers could not only accommodate 200,000 people, but could house both the giant airships, Akron and Macon at one time in its base as well as providing parking space for 50,000 automobiles.

THEATER Attractions

"DOWNSTAIRS", which introduces John Gilbert to his screen fans in a startling new departure as a sinister but colorful villain, is the attraction today at the State theater.

The story of "Downstairs" was written by Gilbert himself. Originally he intended to direct Erich von Stroheim in it, which gives some hint as to the nature of the extraordinary role in which Gilbert upsets all precedents and abandons his former type of romantic heroes for a villainous characterization.

"Downstairs" is a tense drama laid in the servants' quarters of a European castle with Gilbert, as a chauffeur, spreading a web of intrigue that ensnares the entire household until a fantastic revenge ends his plotting.

Virginia Bruce, whose betrothal to Gilbert was announced during the making of the picture, plays the heroine as the maid and Paul Lukas enacts the avenging butler who lures the philandering chauffeur to his doom.

Tom Mix in "My Pal the King" with his wonder horse, Tony, is the second feature of the double attraction bill.

PINE BLUFF, Ark.—Ike G. Allen, recently retired telegraph company cashier here, was never late to work during his 44 years on the same job.

Mullins Hits Hard To Defeat Cigars In Opening Series Clash

M'Namee Sets Tobies Down With 3 Singles; Collide Again Monday

With Earl McNamee holding the rival aggregation to three singles, Mullins Foremen's club tossed flashed great power at bat and played sensationally in the field to annex a one-sided 7-2 victory over the United Cigars in the first game of the city championship softball series at Reilly stadium Thursday night.

More than 400 persons witnessed the struggle, watching McNamee outpitch his stellar Cigar rival Eddie Miller, off whose delivery Mullins collected 10 hits for 17 total bases.

The teams collide in the second game of the series at 8 p. m. Monday.

Red Cross Benefits

The game was played for the benefit of Salem's American Red Cross chapter to assist the welfare unit in erasing financial indebtedness created through extensive work among the city's unemployed. If a third game is necessary it will be played next Wednesday.

Both teams played under handicaps in the opening struggle, having difficulty in seeing the ball under the high-powered floodlight system while fielders also experienced trouble in fielding ground balls on the rough infield. Each outfit had four errors which aided in scoring of both teams.

Salem Hardware tossers, selected by Joe Kelley to oppose Salem old-timers in an exhibition tilt, found that the former baseball stars had plenty of ability on the mushball sport and just squeezed through with a 5-4 victory in a five-inning struggle.

Joe Reese Stars

Two sensational catches by Joe Reese, one of them a diving catch in which he rolled over twice after spearing the ball, were the big features of the struggle which found the Old-Timers clouting off fairs of George Earley for 17 safeties but were unable to come through in the pinches.

Atty H. L. McCarthy held the Hardware stars to seven hits and had two strikeouts to his credit.

The Class A fracas found both teams scoring one run in the first inning, each being held scoreless until the fifth when Mullins, aided by a long double by Martin Debnar, sent three runs scurrying across the plate to take a 4-1 lead.

Rafferty Hits Homer

The Cigars tallied another marker in the seventh inning and both teams went runless in the eighth. Apparently out to clinch the vic-

Koenig's Comeback Is Big Aid to Cubs in Titular Drive

Mark Koenig

Baseball heroes are a dime a dozen every season, but the name of Mark Koenig will linger long in the memories of present day fans.

Always willing to bestow honors on those who possess an abundance of fighting heart, baseball fans have awarded the laurel sprig to Koenig for his gallant comeback this season.

Stages Game Fight

Back in the big leagues as a member of a club headed toward a pennant and possibly world's series honors, Koenig has waged the greatest fight in the annals of modern baseball. Any glory he may reap will be nothing less than just reward for his heart-breaking battle that carried him from oblivion in the minors to a prominent spot in the big league limelight.

All in the space of one season Koenig has slipped from the big leagues to the minors and back to a berth in the majors. Falling eyesight caused by sinus trouble put Mark on the down grade and he was sent by the Detroit Tigers early this season to the San Francisco Missions.

Most baseball players would be through after such a setback, but not Koenig. Before he reported to the Coast team he underwent an operation that restored his sight to normalcy. On the Coast he was a sensation from the start. Hitting and fielding in big league style he attracted the attention of scouts from the American and National leagues.

Bought For $10,000

While a few clubs were planning to get Koenig for the 1933 season, the Chicago Cubs stepped in and bought him for $10,000. And what a buy at that price.

He has more than earned his purchase price for the Cubs, with his work since he joined Chicago a little over a month ago. His fielding steadied the Cubs' infield and his hitting has won more than one game for them in their march toward the National League pennant.

With Koenig at shortstop Manager Charlie Grimm found that many of the rough spots in the defensive playing of the Cubs' infield were ironed out by his experience and steadiness. Young Billy Herman at third base settled down and played like a real veteran with Mark alongside of him.

Veteran In Experience

Only a youngster in years, 28, Mark is a real veteran in experience. This is his eighth season in the big leagues, five of which he played with the New York Yankees.

PEDEN PREDICTS ANOTHER STRONG OHIO U. ELEVEN

14 Lettermen Back to Aid School In Maintaining Rank In Grid Sport

BY EARL BERKLEY,
Associated Press Staff Writer

ATHENS, Sept. 16.—Despite the loss of seven veterans through graduation, Ohio university will launch its football campaign this season with material promising enough. Coach Don Peden thinks, to maintain the squad's position as an important factor in the Buckeye conference.

14 Lettermen Back

In a squad of 40 reporting for practice were 14 lettermen, four experienced varsity players and an array of ambitious and determined sophomores.

And a week of daily drills has so polished the squad that Peden feels that the task of replacing the graduated lettermen has been made much easier, although more intensive training will be needed to shape up the team for action.

For each of the backfield positions there are two lettermen—Leonard Sadosky of Cleveland and Henry Corrandini of Flushing, quarterbacks; Joe Sinitic of Cleveland and Robert Willoughby of Mt. Sterling, fullbacks, and Harold Brown of Parkersburg, W. Va., and Donald Maurer of Uhrichsville, halfbacks—all active last year.

Veteran Linebacker Back

Lettermen ready for line duty are William Snyder, London; Charles Jeffrey, Toledo; Bernard McCashin, Sidney, and Dale Hawkins, Fredericksburg, Pa., tackles; George Collins, Sidney, and Jack Laskin, Youngstown, ends, and Joe Colvin, Portsmouth, center.

The Bobcats open their season next Saturday in a game with Rio Grande college. Two inter-sectional games are on the 22 schedule. A week after the opening game the team meets Indiana university at Bloomington and on October 15 the Navy at Annapolis.

The schedule follows:
Sept. 24—Rio Grande at Athens;
Oct. 1, Indiana at Bloomington;
Oct. 8, Franklin at Athens; Oct. 15, Navy at Annapolis; Oct. 22, Miami at Oxford; Oct. 29, Georgetown at Athens; Nov. 5, Wittenberg at Athens; November 12, Cincinnati at Athens; November 19, Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware.

Pitt Star III

JOHN LUCH

The Pitt Panthers suffered their first setback of the year when varsity fullback John Luch was rushed to the Windber hospital doubled up with an acute attack of appendicitis late Sunday night. While the attack is not serious, there is a probability that an operation may be necessary. The probable loss of Luch clears a path to a varsity berth for either Isadore Weinstock or Heine Weisenbaugh, two promising sophomore backs.

Alternating the fullback position with Jimmy Clark last year, Luch starred in several games. He was picked by Hunk Anderson for Notre Dame's All-Opponent team over such men as Red Russell of Northwestern and Shaver of Southern California.

Salem Golf Stars Clash In Finals of County Tournament Today

Max Caplan, southpaw golfing star, and Ralph Knepper, one of the district's classiest niblick-wielders, both of Salem, clash in finals of the first annual Columbiana county amateur golf tournament at the Salem Golf club today.

The two youthful stars, victors in semi-final matches over two other local players, James Pidgeon, Jr., and William Chalfant, yesterday, will clash in a 36-hole match today to determine who will win the county championship crown for 1932.

Caplan, playing sensational golf all the way, eliminated Pidgeon, 2 and 1, while Knepper scored a 3 and 2 triumph over Chalfant.

County's 13-Year Pace Record Broken By Captain Leggett

LISBON, Sept. 16.—The county fair ground pacing track record of 2:11 hung up in 1919 by Leo Grand was lowered in the second heat of the 2:15 pace here Thursday afternoon by Captain Leggett, owned by Seely Bros., of Canfield. The former record stood for 13 years. The new record stands at 2:10 1/4.

The horse scored fourth in a field of four in the first heat, took first in the second and fourth in the third and final heat.

Four Heats to Decide

Four heats were required to determine final results in the 2:19 trot, the four heat race being won by Mary Belle Hamlin, bm, entered by George H. Blum of Chagrin Falls. There were just two trotters in the final heat, with The Inbred, bm, entered by Reese Blizard of Parkersburg, W. Va., taking second place and money.

Mary Belle Hamlin was seventh in the first heat, then advanced to fifth in the second heat and won the third and fourth heats. In both last two heats the Inbred scored a length behind the winner.

Two other races were won in straight heats.

At the last turn in the first heat of the 2:22 pace, Bessie Hamelton bl m entered by W. A. Baple of Chardon was leading the field when she fell and a bad spill was averted by smart horsemanship on the part of other drivers.

NEBRASKA YOUTH OPPOSES OUMET IN U. S. TOURNEY

Veteran Champion Faces Johnnie Goodman In Semi-Final Match

(By Associated Press)
BALTIMORE, Sept. 16.—Memories of Pebble Beach and Bobby Jones' sudden demise were before Champion Francis Oumet as he faced the slender young Nebraskan, Johnny Goodman, in a semi-final skirmish of the National amateur golf championship today.

Defeated Jones In 1929
It was Goodman, the unheralded youth from Omaha, who shocked the experts in 1929 by eliminating the great Jones in the first round of the California event, and the 22-year old star, playing as brilliant a game as any one in the tournament, stood ready to give Oumet a similar surprise.

Along with this pair in the battle of five farms was another veteran, Jesse Guilford, the 1921 champion, and Oumet's Boston neighbor and Rome (Sandy) Somerville, four times former Canadian champion.

Somerville Favored
Somerville's fine play yesterday left him a slight favorite over Guilford and a victory for him would give the tournament its first international final since Jones beat Phil Perkins of England in 1928.

Guilford's and Somerville's march to the semi-finals was comparatively easy, but Oumet and Goodman were forced to rally strongly near the end and wage their drive to the 36th hole.

With the best scoring pace for the day, Somerville eliminated Bill Blaney of Boston, 6 to 5.

Smacking out some of the longest blows the tournament has seen, Guilford negotiated a 5 and 4 win over Chick Evans of Chicago.

Johnny Fischer, of Cincinnati, the long driving intercollegiate champion, started out as though he intended to dethrone Oumet in a hurry. He was three up through the tenth hole, but a putting lapse on the way home, combined with some excellent shots by Oumet, saw this lead wiped away.

Wilcoxon Starts Sixth Year As Alliance High Athletic Coach

The 1932 football season marks the sixth year for George M. Wilcoxon, Alliance lad and former Mount Union college star, as athletic director of Alliance High school.

Has Fine Record

During Wilcoxon's regime the eleven has made a fine record only losing nine of 49 games played. His record has been 37 victories, nine defeats and three ties.

In 1929 Wilcoxon made his best record on the gridiron. That season the eleven won nine in a row only to lose to Salem in the final game of the year 7 to 0. The following season a record of eight victories, one defeat and one tie was established. A scoreless tie with Salem gave Alliance a tie with the Quakers for second place in the Big Ten. Last season the Aviators won nine out of 11 starts for the season but finished sixth in the loop breaking even in four contests.

Handling the basketball team for the last time during the 1929-30 season Alliance tied with Dover for second place in the Big Ten circuit.

Approves Rules

Asked his opinion regarding the changes in the gridiron rules Wilcoxon asserts "it appears that more than ever before this year's football teams will try to give the fans their money's worth. From this will develop a more open type of game with many thrills and plenty of scoring."

Commenting further Wilcoxon says "the changes of the rules as a whole are all for the betterment of the game. Although each coach and each football fan may have his pet objection to the rule changes, we all must admit that we have a group of men on the rules committee who are doing their best to keep football on our collegiate and scholastic programs."

Wilcoxon avers "the most important change in the football rules is that substitutions may be made only when time is out. Last year it was possible to substitute a player at any time during a game. This year time must be out before a player may go on the field, without his team receiving a five-yard penalty."

Honored by Critics

In two years of athletic competition at Mount he was honored on the All-Ohio conference selection as quarterback in football and forward in basketball. In 1925 he was named by the late Walter Camp as one of the 100 best quarterbacks in the country.

Since leaving Mount Union college Wilcoxon has spent one year at Ohio State university and two summers at Columbia university. The last two years following the football season he has been enrolled at the University of Chicago. He expects to return to Chicago again this year to resume his medical studies.

A graduate of Alliance High

George M. Wilcoxon

school he participated in all sports. He only earned one letter in football as he broke his leg during his sophomore year when participating in a football game between the freshman and sophomore classes. He earned two letters in basketball and was captain of the quintet in 1923. His brother John was captain of the five the year before.

Wilcoxon with his assistant, Leonard H. Whitacre started their coaching careers together at Alliance High in the fall of 1927. Whitacre has been head basketball and track coach at Alliance for the last two years. Wilcoxon teaches physical education at the school.

Frank "Tex" Leonard, who as an Ohio Wesleyan sophomore set a new mark of 12 feet, 7 inches in the annual Buckeye conference track and field meet at Denison university, Granville, last spring, on Labor day leaped 13 feet to set a new record in the annual Irish-American club track and field meet in Philadelphia, his home city. Leonard will be seeking still greater heights in next year's Buckeye meet, which will be held at Miami university, Oxford.

CUYLER'S HOMER WINS FOR CUBS

Clouts Circuit Blow In 11th to Trim Giants; Cleveland Wins

Hazen (Kiki) Cuyler sat on the bench while the Pittsburgh Pirates absorbed four successive beatings from the New York Yankees in 1927, but it's a safe bet the fleet outfielder will see plenty of service in the world's series this year, assuming the Chicago Cubs win the National league pennant.

As the Cubs drive toward the flag, Cuyler's sensational fielding and timely hitting have been the determining factor in many a game.

Soaks Homer In 11th

Particularly has he been "poisonous" to the New York Giants, and yesterday he was the hero of the Cubs' thrilling 11-inning, 8 to 7 victory over the same club at the Polo grounds.

Pittsburgh recovered from a brief slump to trim the Boston Braves, 3 to 2, but failed to gain an inch in the standings.

St. Louis turned up with another brilliant pitching prospect in Ray Starr, young right-hander from Rochester, who held Brooklyn to two widely spaced singles and won handily, 3 to 0. The Phillies downed Cincinnati, 7 to 4, to make a sweep of the three-game series.

Yanks Lose To Sox

The Yankees suffered their first defeat since clinching the American league flag when the Chicago White Sox beat them, 8 to 5. Lefty Gomez was the victim. Walter Stewart of the Browns came out best in a tight mound duel with George Earnshaw of the Athletics, 3 to 2.

Cleveland pounded two Boston pitchers for 12 hits, including home runs by Kamin and Cissell, to win their 18th game of the year, from the Red Sox 7 to 2. The Detroit Tigers noosed out Washington, 8 to 7, in 10 innings.

ST. LOUIS—Charles Rigler, National League umpire, has been made defendant in a $1500 suit filed by Thomas F. McDonough, who claimed the umpire "boxed" his ears. Witnesses said McDonough made remarks to Rigler which the umpire resented.

Ohio Coaches Work Players Hard; Season to Open Soon

(By Associated Press)

Hard work and plenty of it was the order from Ohio college football coaches today as they noted the rapid approach of opening games. Many who started practice this week will send their charges into their first games next weekend.

Coach Gauthier of Ohio Wesleyan ordered 187-pound Jim Hoff of Columbus, to the center station from the tackle position in an effort to add weight to the center of the line.

World Series Records

Every game of the 5 game series between the Athletics and the Giants in 1905 world series ended in a shutout. The A's were blanked four times and the Giants once.

The longest world series game in history was extended over 14 innings. Boston, A. L. besting Brooklyn 3 to 1 in 1916.

In 1912, Chicago and Detroit battled 12 innings, 3 to 3 tie. The longest world series draw in the records.

Babe Ruth holds two records in having been on the winning world series team six times and having played in nine classics.

Ruebach, pitcher for Chicago Cubs, is credited with a one hit game against the White Sox in 1906 series.

Ruebach of Chicago Cubs, Walsh, Chicago American, and Brown, Chicago, National, pitcher two hit games in the series of 1906.

Bill Wambegans, Cleveland second baseman made an unassisted triple play against Brooklyn in 1920 series.

Bill Klem of the National League holds the record for umpiring 15 series.

Eight pinch hitters batted in World Series of 1929 and none got a hit—a record.

Ashland's squad of 31 disclosed so many shortcomings in its initial scrimmage it was given a review of fundamentals.

A long signal practice was the program at Wooster, and a modified Warner shift was practiced at the University of Cincinnati.

For the third year, Dayton will have the same backfield combination—Fitzsimmons, Fearn, Gorry and Schur.

Xavier Captain Is Biggest On Team

(By Associated Press)
CINCINNATI, Sept. 16.—Hal McPhail is the "biggest man" on the Xavier university football team in fact as well as in practice.

Not only is McPhail, who performs at fullback, the captain of the Musketeers, but he's the heaviest man in Xavier uniform—210 pounds.

First "Shareholder in America"

Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt (right) is shown as he was presented with the bronze original of his campaign plaque by its designer, Gutzon Borglum, internationally-known sculptor, at the Governor's home in Hyde Park, N. Y. The plaque, bearing the likeness of Roosevelt and his running mate, Speaker John Garner, will be sold to finance the Governor's Presidential campaign. The medallion entitles the wearer to membership in the "Shareholders of America."

Riddle of the Sands

Your guess is just as good as ours when it comes to telling which of these beach nymphs is Lois and which is Ruth McLaughlin. They are twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McLaughlin, prominent society folk of Hempstead, L. I., and even their fond parents sometimes have a little difficulty in telling them apart. They are shown at Lido Beach, L. I., where identification is made all the more difficult by the twins wearing twin bathing suits.

CHIPPewa FALLS, Wis.—Knut Hoel, 82, who recently retired after conducting a tailor shop here for 47 years, estimated that he walked 60,000 miles to and from his shop during that time. Not once did he ride to work.

MIDDLEBORO, Mass.—During an electrical storm, a freakish bolt of lightning hit a horse weather-vane atop Mrs. Lizzie Lincoln's barn, changing the horse's position so as to make it appear to be standing on its hind legs.

LEGAL NOTICE

The State of Ohio, Columbiana County, ss.
Myra E. Kyes, plaintiff vs. Walter G. Rogers et al, defendants.
Walter G. Rogers, whose last known residence is Allison Park, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and Iris Rogers Bell and Roland Bell, whose last known residence is Green Cove Springs, State of Florida, will take notice that on the 7th day of June A. D. 1932 Myra E. Kyes filed her petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Columbiana County, Ohio, in Case Number 24411 against the above named parties and others claiming the ownership in fee simple of the undivided one-fourth interest in and praying for the partition of the following described premises:
Situating in the village of Rogers, township of Middleton, County of Columbiana and state of Ohio and known as being lot number nineteen (19) in the Original Addition.
That Walter G. Rogers, Iris Rogers Bell and Roscoe M. Rogers claim an undivided one fourth interest in said premises and that Roland Bell claims a contingent dower interest as the husband of Iris Rogers Bell.
Plaintiff prays that an accounting of rents and profits be required of Roscoe M. Rogers and that partition be made and plaintiff's interest be set off to her in severally and for such other relief as she may be entitled.

Said parties are required to answer plaintiff's petition on or before the 5th day of October A. D. 1932. To: M. KYES, Attorney for Plaintiff (Published in Salem News Aug. 15, 26, Sept. 2, 9, 16, 23, 1932)

HEART STRINGS

By EDWINA L. MACDONALD
COPYRIGHT, 1932, BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

SYNOPSIS

Lovely, young Patricia Braithwaite agrees to marry wealthy middle-aged Harvey Blaine because the father she adores is in financial straits. She hopes, however, that handsome Jack Lawrence, a young camper whom she only met once—and the only man she ever wanted to kiss her—will rescue her from Blaine. When Jack fails to appear, she turns in desperation to Jimmie Warren, her Aunt Pamela's fascinating husband. They become infatuated and Pat breaks her engagement. Aunt Pam is suspicious but blames herself for warning Pat that love fades, inferring that her marriage to Jimmie had failed. Feeling that Pam no longer cares, Jimmie and Pat see no wrong in their "love." Then Jack appears, but Pat tells him he is too late—the emotion he awakened blossomed to love under another's kiss. Jack, claiming he is the one Pat really cares for, refuses to give up, and the next day moves to the hotel in which she also is quartered.

CHAPTER NINETEEN

How it rained! Three endless days. A chill wind blowing. Palm Beach's disgruntled paymasters, enraged by the dishonesty of a state selling sunshine and giving short measure, returned in trainloads to more equable Northern climates, where three days of rain came not in winter, and sweaters were not needed to ward off cold.

There was no bathing, no tennis, no joyriding, no hiking. Even the tea dances in the Pavilion which always helped fill an hour or so of afternoons had to be discontinued. The hotels were like tombs.

The Warren villa, alone, was never dull. Patricia's house party was a veritable "godsend" to the entire youth of the colony. Pamela was not a novice at entertaining and saw to it that her restless guests were occupied from late breakfast till midnight supper. But expert as she was, she thanked the gods for Jack Lawrence. While in no sense an "entertainer," he had within himself a fathomless well of joy. He did an amazing number of things—out of date things, often, which, nevertheless, were amusing. Like playing the guitar. He said he had picked it up from the Mexicans, which was "keen." But he decidedly had not picked up the rich mellow voice that filled the room when he sang. And it was "too killing" the way he always singled out one of the girls, singing to her, eyes despairing, impersonating some old-time Italian or gypsy swain. He never chose Patricia for his play-acting. He was too serious about her, one supposed. But they didn't mind. They were "thrilled" to be singled out by him in any way.

He played the piano too. How he played! Anything you put before him. Jazz if you wanted it. But also Beethoven and Schubert when he wanted these. They scorned classical music; but he had a way of compelling their attention—a throbbing quality in his playing that ached inside of you. Pat always drifted over to him at these times, as if in a dream, usually sank down on the bench beside him with a sort of other-world look in her blue eyes. Sometimes he played things which they suspected were

"In asking me to guard you in his absence, your father quite securely locked you away from me," Warren explained his own, things that hurt so the tears would run down your cheeks, and the men would sneak out, one by one.

Then, after he had made you cry, he would stop suddenly, take out his pencil, make some swift marks on a sheet of music and would show you your own picture looking so woebegone.

He really was a scream. So—what was that word?—from the god of something—oh, yes, mercurial. Sometimes when he allowed the men to draw him into an argument you would decide he was in reality a terrible highbrow. Then he would shatter the black seriousness of everybody with some absurdity.

For once "the gang" was never bored. Even the men quit talking so much about what a rotten world it was; what beasts all men and women were under the thin shell of civilization; and that animal gratification was all there was.

As for Patricia, despite the torture of Jimmie's nearness and his continued and inexplicable silence, she was not insensible to girlish triumph when Jack, entering a room, drawing all eyes with his flashing smile, passed them over, disatisfied till he found her.

It was nice. Oh, nice. It made you feel that you weren't a person to be kissed then tossed aside—forgotten, as if you had no permanency of charm. You knew if you ever kissed Jack he would not leave you humiliated, shattered and shamed.

Warren had made no effort to speak with her alone, nor gave the slightest sign that he remembered that flaming night in the moon dappled garden, and Patricia was beginning to find the strain of eating at least twice a day en famille with him unbearable. Sometimes she hated him intensely. Then, she was convinced that she loved him with a love as deathless as it was hopeless. This consoled her a little. Not everybody had depths enough for a big deathless love.

There was something rather pleasant in knowing one's self to be such a person; something fine and splendid in seeing one's self in black silk with silver hair sitting over an open fire meditating on the one big love of a long, long life; of having one's grandchildren asking—no, there wouldn't be any grandchildren because she could never, never marry. Well, one's nieces and nephews—only unfortunately, having no brothers or sisters, there couldn't be any nieces or nephews.

Then her mood would change. Pleasurable melancholy would give place to white-hot anger. Thoughts and conversation intermingled so that sometimes she had a terrifying sense of not knowing which were silent, which spoken.

How have you the face to sit there talking like that, Jimmie Warren? No, thank you, Jerry, no bridge for me—when less than a week ago you kissed me like a madman, held me in your arms as if you could never let me go, told me you loved me. . . . Girls, let's get up some old-fashioned games. . . . But of course you lied. I suppose that's why you can look so damned innocent. . . . Oh, no, we won't need music. We'll play some that go with songs. . . . I suppose you're used to that sort of a scene, you rascal! It means nothing to you except fun. . . . Won't you help us, Aunt Pam, think up some games? . . . Oh, damn you! Damn you, Jimmie Warren. . . .

Warren had made no effort to speak with her alone, nor gave the slightest sign that he remembered that flaming night in the moon dappled garden, and Patricia was beginning to find the strain of eating at least twice a day en famille with him unbearable. Sometimes she hated him intensely. Then, she was convinced that she loved him with a love as deathless as it was hopeless. This consoled her a little. Not everybody had depths enough for a big deathless love.

There was something rather pleasant in knowing one's self to be such a person; something fine and splendid in seeing one's self in black silk with silver hair sitting over an open fire meditating on the one big love of a long, long life; of having one's grandchildren asking—no, there wouldn't be any grandchildren because she could never, never marry. Well, one's nieces and nephews—only unfortunately, having no brothers or sisters, there couldn't be any nieces or nephews.

Then her mood would change. Pleasurable melancholy would give place to white-hot anger. Thoughts and conversation intermingled so that sometimes she had a terrifying sense of not knowing which were silent, which spoken.

How have you the face to sit there talking like that, Jimmie Warren? No, thank you, Jerry, no bridge for me—when less than a week ago you kissed me like a madman, held me in your arms as if you could never let me go, told me you loved me. . . . Girls, let's get up some old-fashioned games. . . . But of course you lied. I suppose that's why you can look so damned innocent. . . . Oh, no, we won't need music. We'll play some that go with songs. . . . I suppose you're used to that sort of a scene, you rascal! It means nothing to you except fun. . . . Won't you help us, Aunt Pam, think up some games? . . . Barrels of Fun and Fasting

This amazing scene was recently witnessed at Blackpool, famous English seaside resort, when the Rev. Harold Davidson, former Rector of Stiffkey, near London, staged a fasting exhibition in a barrel as a protest against his recent conviction on charges of immorality. The rector is in the barrel nearest the camera. In the other is Barbara Cockayne, a friend of Davidson's, also fasting. A small contribution must be made before one can take a peep. By this means the rector hopes to raise funds to appeal his conviction.

How could you do such a thing to me. . . . When I might have cared for—someone else who's worth two of you. And now I can't. . . .

The climax came one day as Patricia lingered over her lunch. Jack had come to get a Richmond paper. "Come on. Grand conference in the library," said Ida Fallon. The gang tramped out after her. Patricia signaled Pamela on some household matter.

Patricia pushed back her chair hastily as Pamela went out.

"Wait, Pat," Warren said softly. She sank back, face flaming, heart hammering.

His eyes returned to his paper. "In asking me to fill his place and guard you in his absence as his one precious jewel, your father quite securely locked you away from me. You see that, don't you, Pat?"

She saw that his face was white. The hand that held his paper was shaking. "I wanted you to know, Pat, that I'm not such a damned cad as you must have thought," he went on without looking up. "That's all."

She was trembling from head to foot. Throat closed tight. Smothering. Drowned in the pained blue eyes now suddenly lifted to her across the table. So that was it. He cared. He cared. Daddy had tied him. And her. How had Daddy guessed?

Warren continued, his voice husked. "Have you—damn it—I can't ask you that—the fact is—forget it, Pat—I mean that night. You're too young and lovely and—"

His voice trailed off. She found her voice. "A thing like that happens once in a lifetime to a girl like me. I haven't forgotten. I won't. Ever."

"You Really Must Excuse their Radio
—My Parents are so Old-Fashioned"

The trouble with this younger set of ours is that every now and then they hit the nail on the head. Here are the Smiths—a perfectly normal, up-to-date family in every other respect—but they cling to their wheezy, squawky, fussy, out-of-date radio—just as if they ENJOYED it. It's really so unnecessary when one considers what unusual buys in MODERN radios we have here. Our reputation as Salem's Quality Store assures you of a Quality Radio.
